

BT MeetMe Global Access

Call globally, dial locally.

As international business continues to expand, keeping your international team on the same page is more critical than ever. Why make it even more complicated by dialing into conferences with expensive and awkward international phone numbers?

BT MeetMe Global Access is a convenient reservationless audio conferencing solution from BT Conferencing that lets you conference quickly, easily, cost-effectively, and internationally. Your international participants dial easy-to-use local numbers to access their conference call without incurring the expense of an international call or the hassle of looking up and dialing country codes. They'll also be able to use the same features of BT MeetMe Global Access as your regular BT MeetMe service.

Available anywhere, this service allows you to quickly connect with colleagues, customers, and suppliers, letting you run your global business more effectively. And because you don't have to book your call in advance, you can use BT MeetMe Global Access anytime.

BT MeetMe Global Access is:

- Simple to use, removes the guess-work and frustration of dialing internationally
- Reservationless, there is no need to book the call in advance
- Cost-effective, avoid international long distance charges

BT MeetMe Global Access rates offer savings of 47%–85%* over international rates. The chart is a sampling of some of the countries we currently offer service for and the potential savings you could experience from using BT MeetMe Global Access. BT Conferencing currently offers dial-in numbers from a constantly growing list of over 50 countries.

BT MeetMe Global Access is only intended for use by participants based in different countries who are dialing into same conference. If all participants are based in the US, please use our standard BT MeetMe service.
